Dear parents,

SUBSCRIPTION TO THE ECONOMIST

I've been contacted by The Economist magazine with a special subscription offer for our students.

As your son or daughter approaches their A-levels – and whatever life holds for them beyond school – their ability to think clearly, form opinions and make sense of the world has never been more important.

Some people believe that The Economist is only for students studying economics. It certainly helps those students, but its wide-ranging coverage and analysis of topics from current affairs to arts, science and technology will help your child, whatever they are studying.

The Economist schools offer is a special discounted subscription rate of £15.00 for 40 issues; each issue normally costs over £4.

The subscription package includes:

- The weekly print edition delivered to your child at school
- Complete access to the digital edition via The Economist apps
- Unrestricted access to Economist.com and The Economist audio edition
- The Economist Espresso, a daily app delivering a stimulating shot of analysis and insight every morning
- “The World in 2018”, an annual collection of detailed, numerate and opinionated predictions for the year ahead

If you would like to take up this offer of a discounted subscription for your child, please go to www.parentpay.com and enter in your username and password. Please choose the correct service and make your payment. If you would prefer to pay by cash, you may do so at your local Paypoint retailer using a barcoded letter. Please request this letter from Ranmore Office. Please note that payments are non-refundable as the school makes a financial commitment to companies based on the number of places required. If you have not activated your account and need help or have any queries please contact the school at parentpay@ashcombe.surrey.sch.uk

Yours sincerely,

Mr T Mercer
